Reelected By 12,943 Votes, Leads Ticket

By JIM GOODMAN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Republican Willard S. Curtin, a quiet, reserved campaigner, bucked a national trend and scored a walloping victory yesterday when he piled up a 12,943 vote majority to be reelected to the Bucks-Lehigh County Congressional seat.

Curtin defeated Democrat Harold Lefcourt by 9,604 votes in Bucks County alone to lead the Republican county ticket to victory in all offices save one.

Some 87,750 voters, about 71 per cent of the eligible voters, went to the polls in Bucks County. In the 1956 Presidential election, the turnout was 99,055 or 85 per cent but in 1958, the last gubernatorial election, the voting amounted to 63,230 or 70 per cent. James J. A. Gallagher, elected to the State Assembly in Second District, was the lone Democrat to escape the Republican landslide in Bucks County.

Curtin Leads Ticket

According to unofficial tabulations, Curtin polled 48,659 votes in Bucks County and 36,159 votes in Lehigh County for a 84,718 total. He led the GOP ticket throughout Bucks County.

This was more than enough to swamp Lefcourt, who recorded 39,055 votes in Bucks County and 32,820 votes in Lehigh County for a 71,875 vote total.

The election assures Curtin, a 52-year-old Morrisville attorney, at least two more years in the House of Representatives. He was first elected to the House two years ago in the 1956 Presidential election.

It was a crushing blow to Lefcourt, a Bristol Township Commissioner for the last three years. Curtin's nearly 13,000 vote majority far exceeded the most optimistic pre-election Republican hopes.

But Curtin won with surprising ease. He buried Lefcourt, a 35-year-old businessman who has

Gallagher Is Only Democratic Winner

By GORDON PARKER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Bucks County will send one Democrat and three Republicans to the state legislature next January as a result of yesterday's election.

The Democrat is James J. A. Gallagher, of 26 Flower Lane, Farmbrook, Levittown, who defeated J. Maurice Tomlinson, Bensalem funeral director, for the state assembly seat from the seemingly Democratic-secure Second District.

Unofficial returns give Gallagher 21,144 votes to 16,381 for Tomlinson.

Keller Wins Senate Seat
The three Republicans elected were:

Marvin V. Keller, Newtown, picked for the state senate over Harold V. Craven by an unofficial tally of 45,608 to 41,856.

Mrs. Margarette S. Kooker, of Quakertown, and Aian D. Williams, New Britain attorney, picked over Democrats John H. Wood, Jr., and David C. MacNamara

Boy, 3, Is Drowned In Drainage Ditch

A three-year-old Levittown boy drowned in a deep drainage ditch yesterday despite efforts of two mothers to save him.

Jack W. Hahn II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Hahn, 72 Hedge

Road, Highland Park, was pronounced dead at Lower Bucks County Hospital about 4:35 p.m. He was taken to the hospital by the Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad.

Two mothers in the neighborhood, Mrs. Elizabeth Angove, 106 Harmony Road, and Mrs. Jane Silar, 102 Harmony Road, were alerted to the emergency by Mrs. Angove's nine-year-old son Ronald. He learned of the accident from two other neighborhood boys who yelled, "Jackie fell in!"

Grabs Clothes Prop
Mrs. Angove grabbed a clothes prop and ran with Mrs. Silar to the lip of the drainage ditch which is being dug for sewer installation for the Albert Schweitzer Elementary School.

A boy's small woolen cap was lying on the ground near the brink of the ditch. The mothers started probing the muddied waters for the child. Mrs. Angove said nothing but the cap would indicate that a child might have fallen into the ditch. The body was at the

Gov. Leader Is Defeated For Senator

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh captured the Pennsylvania governorship yesterday, but the spotlight was seized by veteran Republican Rep. Hugh D. Scott in a stunning upset over Gov. George M. Leader in the U. S. senatorial race.

For Lawrence the results climaxed a long reign as undisputed leader of Pennsylvania's Democratic Party. But Scott, the lone GOP winner on the statewide slate, overcame an early 90,000 lead of the governor to poll over the two million mark, the highest among the top candidates on both sides.

The highest vote ever polled by a U.S. senatorial candidate in the Keystone State was the 2,331,034 of Republican Sen. Edward Martin in 1952. Scott takes over the seat of Martin, who is retiring. Scott, who has served 16 years in Congress, swept through 51 of the state's 67 counties for a margin of at least 110,364 votes over Leader.

Lawrence took only 18 counties, but those in the state's heavy

Tickets Split

Leader's heretofore meteoric rise to political prominence was nipped at the Executive Mansion at the age of 40, the lone Democratic casualty of ticket splitting.

The biggest question posed by Leader's defeat was why he trailed Scott in Allegheny County by 32,000 votes, while he carried the same county four years ago by a thumping 100,000 votes to win the governorship.

Lawrence's win was dampened by a politically divided 1959 General Assembly, with the Republicans retaining control of the Senate for the 11th consecutive session, while the Democrats regained domination of the state House of Representatives.

As In 1955

The same situation prevailed in the record 17-month session of the 1955 Legislature after Leader came into office. The 1957 session was entirely under GOP control. The Republicans captured 12 Senate seats at stake which gave them a 28-22 edge with the 16 GOP holdovers whose terms do not expire until 1960.

The Democrats skinned to an exact 106 voting majority in the 210-member state House.

Bucks Voters Back GOP In State Tally

By BOB REINHARDT

Bucks County voters favored every Republican state-wide candidate in yesterday's election. Only one was elected, Hugh Scott, successful candidate for U. S. Senator. He enjoyed a lead 9,564 votes in the county.

Next to Rep. Willard S. Curtin, Scott was the most successful vote getter in the county. Unofficial county returns gave Scott 48,567 Bucks votes, as against 39,003 for the Democratic candidate for the Senate, Gov. George M. Leader.

Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading pretzel manufacturer running for governor on the Republican ticket, outdrew the successful candidate, David L. Lawrence in Bucks County. The results (unofficial) were, in Bucks County: McGonigle, 46,443; Lawrence, 41,177; plurality, 5,266.

Demo Tide Sweeps GOP Strongholds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats rode into commanding control of the House and Senate today with the biggest congressional landslide victory since the Roosevelt New Deal era.

A Democratic tide which surged in Maine two months ago swept across such Republican strongholds as Vermont, Ohio, South Dakota, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

Democrats won 25 Senate races, with one unsettled, to assure them of at least 61 seats in the new Congress, while the GOP had won eight for a total of only 34.

Democrats held 272 sure House seats against 138 for the Republicans. Fifty Senate and 219 House seats are needed for control.

President Eisenhower thus faces a Congress more heavily under control of the opposition party than any president in this century.

The Democratic sweep wiped out a solid Republican House delegation and retired a GOP senator in Connecticut. It engulfed Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California, heir to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in the Senate, and Sen. John W. Bricker, Taft's heir as the head man in the Ohio GOP.

Down with Knowland, running for governor, went Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, who reluctantly ran for the Senate. He lost to Democratic Rep. Clair Engle.

Bricker was beaten in Ohio by former Rep. Stephen M. Young, Democratic running mate of Michael V. Desalle, who unseated Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Surveying the GOP wreckage, Vice President Richard M. Nixon said the Democrats deserved to win because they had been campaigning for two years, and GOP Chairman Meade A. Auer admitted his party had taken a "bad mauling." Both served notice that the Republican campaign for 1960 would start at once.

All was not lost for the GOP. Republicans found a few bright spots, particularly in New York, where Nelson A. Rockefeller upended Democratic Gov. Averill Harriman and killed him off as a potential presidential contender.

Rockefeller carried Rep. Kenneth B. Keating into a Senate seat over Democratic Frank S. Hogan.

Democratic governors also were displaced by Republicans in Arizona and Rhode Island.

Here is the latest rundown on the standings shown by the United Press International count (including results from the Maine election Sept. 8):

Democrats re-elected all 13 of their incumbent senators whose seats were at stake this year, won 12 and led in a tight race in Wyoming for seats now held by Republicans. With 36 holdovers, their indicated Senate membership was 62, compared to 50 necessary for control.

Besides the Senate gains in Connecticut and Ohio, the Democrats wrested two GOP seats in West Virginia and one each in California, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Jersey, and Utah. They took one in Maine in September.

Election Night Is Great Show Here

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

"The greatest show on earth." Not P. T. Barnum extolling the virtues of the elephant and the donkey to a mass of circus devotees but election night in Lower Bucks County as the politicians squirm and shift with the passing night of voting tallies.

It starts with the movement and the hustle and the excitement of the pre-vote count, guess at a typical polling place like Faith Reformed Church on Sexton Lane, Levittown.

Two Precincts
Here the voters of Falls Township, Upper District 4, precinct 1 and the voters of the seventh ward, third precinct, Bristol Township had their say.

Shortly before the polls closed at 8 p.m. this place was a beehive of activity with Democratic workers dominating the scene in this district.

Earlier in the day there was evidence here and at other spots throughout Bristol Township that Harold Lefcourt, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress was "being cut" as the phrase goes.

In political jargon this means that Democrats were working for the ticket but against Lefcourt. Several riders carried "Democrats for Curtin" banners. This hurt Lefcourt's chances no end in his own areas where he expected to run strongest.

Voice Of The People
Then promptly at 8 o'clock the polls closed and the politicians had to stand by and listen to the voice of the people after their own shouting has long faded.

And it wasn't long before the trend in the races became evident. Congressman Willard S.

Curtin, taking the balloting returns calmly at his home on Glen Valley Road amidst a crowd of more than 60 followers, heard his margin from Lehigh about 10 p.m. and began to see the light.

Shortly before 11 o'clock he said, "It's not over yet but I'm pretty sure I am in, I'm the cautious type." But it was over and he was in.

Becoming Old Pro
And Bucks County's Congressman, who is rapidly developing into the area's political old pro, moved with assurance to Doylestown to accept the plaudits of his happy followers.

At Levittown Fire Company No. 2, Lower Bucks Democratic headquarters, empty coffee containers and sandwich wrappers were all that were left after 11 o'clock as the returns from Lower Bucks came in.

They were received in mixed emotions as the various areas reported their returns. Only the Democrats from Bristol smiled. As usual of late, Bristol Democrats towed the mark and the Bristolians knew it all the time.

Steve Brescia, Democratic Bristolian worker summed it up. "In the borough there are no ifs and or buts. You just know what the borough does."

Shortly before midnight at 15 Spring Lane, Stonybrook, Levittown, the house was quiet. This was the Lefcourt home and a few friends gathered in the living room to watch the national returns on TV.

"It wasn't his enemies that beat him, it was his friends," someone uttered to a reporter. With the apparent cutting, the not too active support from his former maverick compatriots and the lack of over-active party enthusiasm for his cause from the regulars, this appeared so. Curtin defeated Lefcourt by about 3,500 votes in Lehigh by about 9,000 in Bucks County.

Analyze Election
And then the politicians analyzed the victory and defeat in the beautiful surroundings of the new Rock Run Restaurant near Morrisville.

"Why didn't he listen to me?" That was the word from all shades of political opinion.

Rescue Attempt Futile

bottom of the rain-filled five foot trench.

The mothers managed to hook the boy's clothing and pull him to the surface. Mrs. Silar immediately began artificial respiration. She was relieved by Bruce Gannett, 35, of 111 Harmony Lane, a Boy Scout from Troop 111.

The Levittown-Fairless Hill Rescue Squad arrived and tried to revive the boy with a resuscitator and an aspirator, but efforts were to no avail.

Mrs. Angove said the ditch was dug about six weeks ago and has been laying open ever since. The ditch lies just behind Harmony Road. Mrs. Angove said she and Mrs. Silar ran around a cyclone fence surrounding the school property before reaching the ditch. The ditch itself, they said, isn't enclosed by the fence.

"Definite Hazard"
Mrs. Silar said the ditch was drained last night by a Pennell fire company squad. "We all, as housewives, have asked what to do about the ditch," she said, "it has been a definite hazard to our children from the beginning."

The rescue squad returned from the hospital and administered shock treatment to the victim's parents. The couple has another child, Deborah, 6.

Mrs. Angove has one other son and a daughter. Mrs. Silar has two daughters and a son.

Middletown Township Manager Charles Melchior said Neshaminy school officials told him that the ditch will be dug out so that it can't back-fill or back up.

He said there's an outlet at the lower end of Harmony Road that's been fenced in, and "As far as we know, there are no other open drainage ditches in our township."

Melchior said he was unaware that the Schweitzer school ditch was open and unfenced. He said no protests had been lodged yet by residents concerning the ditch.

State Sends 16 Democrats To Congress

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pennsylvania voters, following the national trend in Tuesday's off-year election, sent two Republican congressmen down to defeat as the Democrats picked up three seats in the Pennsylvania delegation to the next session of Congress.

The new Pennsylvania lineup will show 16 Democrats and 14 Republicans. Missing from the delegation will be Republicans S. Walter Stauffer, of the 19th district comprising Adams, Cumberland and York counties; and Joseph L. Carrigg, in the 10th district of Lackawanna, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties.

Stauffer, running in the district where President Eisenhower and Gov. George M. Leader vote, was defeated by James M. Quigley, of Camp Hill, who held the office prior to Stauffer. The Stauffer Quigley fight has been a see-saw affair, with each ousting the other since 1954.

Carrigg was defeated by Stanley A. Prokop, of RD 3, Lake Aerial, a farmer. Carrigg was first elected in 1951.

While Congressman Hugh Scott, of Philadelphia, defeated Leader to move up to the U.S. Senate, his place as the House representative from the Sixth District, Philadelphia, went to a Democrat, attorney Herman Toll, who defeated Republican Fred C. Gartner.

Toll's victory gave Philadelphia a solid bank of six Democrats in the next Congress. The one Democratic vacancy, created by the death of veteran lawmaker Herman P. Eberharter, of Pittsburgh, will be filled by another Democrat, William S. Moorehead, Pittsburgh, who will represent the 28th Pennsylvania district.

Bucks Woman Dies In Crash

A 36-year-old North Wales housewife, mother of two small children, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when she apparently lost control of her car and crashed through a retaining fence along Upper State Road, Doylestown Township, plunging 12 feet into Neshaminy Creek.

It was Bucks County's 36th highway death since Jan. 1. There were 39 last year by this date. State Police of Doylestown Barracks said Mrs. Stephanie Kimmerle, Stump Road, RD 1, North Wales, was killed almost instantly when her 1950 sedan landed top side up in three feet of water.

According to police, Bucks County Coroner Thomas C. Lamb said Mrs. Kimmerle died either of a broken neck or drowning. The accident, police said, occurred at 2:30 p.m.

She was the mother of two small children.

Police said Mrs. Kimmerle apparently lost control of her car upon reaching the center of a short bridge across the creek. Her car skidded along the three-foot retaining wall before smashing through an iron fence and falling in the water.

GOP Solemn Despite Victories In County

For a party that won a substantial victory, the Bucks County Republicans seemed unusually solemn last night when the winning returns were in. A late visitor who peeked into the GOP headquarters and the returns-gathering rooms of the county Democrats in the Fountain House, Doylestown, might have been confused as to who won.

There was no jubilant air, slightly when reelected Rep. Willard S. Curtin arrived on the scene. There was some concern about the statewide contests for governor and U. S. Senator, while the outcomes were still in doubt.
